Understanding From The Spirit

The simplicity of the Word is love because God is love, (1John 4:8) and all things come from God. (1Co 8:6) A simple statement but the understanding of that life and how to live it does not come from the world. It begins with searching the heart. If the heart is in the right condition, (pure in heart, Mat 5:8), the inner self, (Eph 3:16), your true spiritual self, understanding will slowly begin to work its way to the mind-ego where scriptures state that a soul is going through regeneration. (Mat 19:28)

Limitations in thought come from the flesh-mind because the minds perspective gives very little thought or credibility to a spiritual existence because it is unseen. The mind also believes it can not understand a world it can not see, and certainly does not understand the thought or workings of spiritual existence.

When the heart-soul realizes that the world has taught the soul what to think, how to think, or how the world should act, right down to interpretations of scriptures. The only way to realize any truths can only come through from your spiritual self, that perfect created spirit in you, from God. This has to be so. Truths begin and come from the unseen world, the spirit world.

There are no limitations or misunderstanding when a soul's thought processes come from the true spiritual self, which is all of God's created spirits.
Jesus, what he stands for, and what he taught was from his spiritual self. Jesus is in all souls and nothing comes from one's own, but from Jesus. Jesus is a state of consciousness.
Prior to Jesus, under the law, God had to teach man by way of the ten commandments. The ten "Thou shalt not" verses. Then they had to be written down. From the world, not the spirit.
Jesus taught only two commandments which in Luke He says;

Luke 10:26-28 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

Jesus taught two commandments.

Mark 12:31 Jesus states; "There is none other commandment greater than these."

Big difference in understanding "Thou shalt not" teachings and the teaching of love, which is life through Christ. When a soul understands life from the spirit, and lives life from that spirit. From the spirit into the flesh.

Worldly man struggles to see the depth in the two greatest commandments. Jesus said to forgive (Mat 6:12-15) and not judge. (Mat 7:1, John 8:15) Man does not, and can not understand that concept unless it comes from within the spiritual self with that purity in heart.
The flesh lives in negativity and fear because of the ego. The ego believes its purpose is in protecting (a survival mode) line of thinking. It is not trusting God, but trusting in its own self, for the protection of the flesh self. This mode of survival masks truth and understanding. Truth and understanding can only come from love.

The countless worlds and universes within God's Creation, the basis of life, is the Word. The Word in whatever "form" it presents itself to the souls understanding in that particular life. The Word is alive and eternal from life to life.
Understanding for the spirit-soul bringing life alive from within. Bringing to life experiences in whatever type of body the spirit is encased. The progression of experiences in the souls eternity.
Can a soul understand a thought in its truths without the experience of the thought? The thought is meaningless and without understanding until the thought is experienced. All life stems from His perfection unto all His spiritual souls that are created with those principles of the Word. Established by God because they are God himself, as He lives though His Creation because He is Creation.
Think of the expanse of the unconditional love that God gives to His Creation. The love he receives through the experiences from His Creation. All of Creation, according to Genesis, Numerous times in Genesis, God calls Creation good.
Not only does God give love to all His Creation, but for God to experience the love FROM creation. How perfect is that!
What thoughts may be reality for one, may not be for another. Or that reality is seen differently. No two spirit-souls are alike. Exactly why judgement is futile. A soul through experiences virtually judges themselves because the inner self, your true self, the true self can not be distorted, changed, or manipulated.
At some point in the souls eternity, the truth is brought forward, understood, and experienced by the individual, as an individual. In "time", a soul corrects itself (the negativities), learning from those experiences by way of freewill, and Salvation IS for all. Salvation is eternal.
True reality is prior to a conscious thought becoming manifested or expressed through the senses. This is why the Word states that a soul should live from his inner self, and not the outer self.
Life begins with thought. The individual consciousness that is within the spirit-soul, which is the consciousness of God. For the created soul, a feeling of being from one's own. Where each and every thought has the possibility of becoming what we understand as reality, as our own, as an individual.
The flesh creates a false sense of separation. All of Creation is ONE because there is only ONE…….God.
